New Deputy Director of Programs and Services takes helm at Nevada Department of Veterans Services

(Reno and Las Vegas, NV)—The Nevada Department of Veterans Services (NDVS) has named Fred Wagar its new Deputy Director of Programs and Services. Wagar brings vast experience in connecting veterans to services and benefits with strong background and expertise in helping disabled veterans.

He most recently served as a Military Service Coordinator (MSC) for the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) in Las Vegas. In the position, he provided guidance to service members going through the Medical Evaluation Board process. Wagar assisted these veterans with claims for all chronic disabilities incurred during military service. In appropriate cases, he was able to ensure veterans received their compensation benefits immediately following discharge from service.

Wagar is himself a veteran. He served in the North Dakota National Guard from 1975 until 1983 as a Combat Engineer. After a 7 year hiatus, he joined the United States Army in 1990 and served as an Arabic linguist/interrogator. Wagar was involved with numerous deployments to the Middle East. While on Active Duty, he completed a degree in linguistics at Monterey Peninsula College in California. In 1998, he was discharged from the Army and joined the Army Reserves. While in the Reserves, Wager served as a Congressional Field Representative for a Congressman from North Dakota.

In 2001, Wagar began working for the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) as a National Service Officer in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. He remained in the Sioux Falls Office until 2006. During his stay in South Dakota, he was called to Active Duty in 2003 and served with a Combat Engineer Unit at Fort Carson, CO providing training to soldiers deploying to Iraq and Afghanistan. The training involved all aspects of deploying to a hostile environment and watching for and responding to terrorist activity.

At the same time, Wagar co-founded the Northern Nevada Wheelchair Program with Wayne Willson, a Past Department Commander of the Nevada DAV. The program provides mobility equipment to veterans and their dependents at no cost.

Wagar is a life member of the DAV, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. He is a Past Department Commander of the DAV in Nevada. When not working, he continues to volunteer for various veterans causes.

He is expected to begin his position at NDVS after April 15, 2017.
